Iron and Steel Industry Occupational Analysis (OA) Workshop, 9-10 July 2015

MSI, the Industry Lead Body for the iron & steel sector as appointed by the "Jabatan Pembangunan Kemahiran (JPK)", organised its 1st Iron & Steel Industry Occupational Analysis (OA) Workshop from the 9th – 10th July at The Malaysian Iron & Steel Industry Federation (MISIF). The workshop was attended by eight domain experts from the iron and steel industry to kick start the initiative to identify and develop highly skilled workers to manage and maintain the plant and equipment.

This is in line with the 11th Malaysia Development Plan which emphasizes on the need to enhance productivity and efficiency through automation as a strategic game changer to move the industry up the value chain. This in turn will contribute towards the vision of Malaysia achieving high income nation status by 2020.

In-line with the national initiative, JPK is embarking on the mission to develop more skillful workers capable of meeting future industry needs. The OA is a pre-cursor effort to further skills development. This is a joint collaboration among government sector (JPK & MSI) and industry players to identify the key and critical skillsets needed by the industry.
